Noida Metro Aqua Line: Starting today, the Noida Metro Aqua Line trains, connecting Noida to Greater Noida, will be available every 7.30 minutes during rush hour and every 10 minutes during non-rush hours on weekdays, according to its operator Noida Metro Rail Corporation (NMRC). Currently, the Noida Metro trains ply at an interval of 10 minutes during peak hours and 15 minutes during non-peak hours from Monday to Friday, the metro operator said.

NMRC Executive Director P D Upadhyay was quoted in a PTI report saying that the corporation will be increasing the frequency of the Noida Metro Aqua Line trains on weekdays with effect from June 3 (Monday). While, on Saturdays and Sundays, the frequency of trains is currently 15 minutes and will continue to remain the same, he said.

According to Upadhyay, currently, the Noida Metro Aqua Line runs 163 trips a day with a fleet of 10 trains. Therefore, now with the increase in frequency, the number of metro trains will increase to 13 and the number of trips will increase to 221 per day. Read more
